Free Advertising.

Most of my escort sites have some free advertising. This is generally for escort listings, the links from these advertisements will always be nofollow, and the escort listed will have to be suitable for the site. For instance, a woman advertised on prettybigescorts.com or bbw.me.uk must be a BBW escort. (Dress size 14 or larger)

Paid Featured Advertising.

Featured advertising is also geared around individual escort advertising and may be applicable in some cases to agencies. Featured advertising will list you on the front page of the website and will list you before the other escorts who are not featured. Looking at an area page or a service page, featured escorts will appear first. Featured advertising may also have a different display format, showing more pictures or a larger display. There are also promoted listings which are featured, but less so.

selectanescort.com

Independent Escorts and Agency escorts may purchase a featured advertisement. Featured escorts appear on the front page of the website. Featured escorts are shown before non-featured escorts on the area listings. Featured escort listings may be purchased in five price bands. If a price band is not full, then escorts from the lower price bands are inserted into the higher price band, at random.

Featured escorts are NOT SEO follow links.

Agencies cannot list for free but can purchase an escort listing which is linked back to the escort listing on the agency site.

There are three types of featured escort listings at different prices. These are Featured, Premium and Promoted.

The featured escort, which has three pictures and are always listed first on the index page and the relevant area and service pages. The premium listing which looks like a standard listing but appears before the standard listings, but after the featured listings.

Featured and Premium Listing

Featured independent escorts are purchased for various time periods. The benefits of a featured listing are:

- Listed on front page.
- Three pictures
- Listed before all other escorts on index page and relevant area and service pages.

Featured agency listings are purchased for various time periods. The benefits of a featured listing are:

- Listed on front page.
- Three Pictures
- Listed before all other escorts on index page and relevant area and service pages.

The premium listing is the same as the featured listing, except that it comes before all other featured listings. It is purchased in addition to the featured listings per area. The number of premium listings is limited to two premium listings per area, or index page. This listing is especially useful for those who want to appear at the top of the index page, or at the top of an area page, such as London where there may be many featured escorts.

FEATURED ESCORT

Bettie BBW/Luxury Leeds Escort

Hi, I'm Bettie, a statuesque BBW with the perfect combination of voluptuous curves, soft skin and a razor sharp wit in the Leeds area. In my professional life, I have been a journalist with a masters degree. I now find myself excited and fulfilled as a born-again entrepreneur offering indulgent companionship in my free time.

Whether you are a veteran of epicureanism or you are just now dipping your toe into these waters, it would be my absolute pleasure to take your hand and introduce you to my world of art, music, culture, and decadent hedonism.

I'm passionately curious about life, love, and pleasure. I believe in the archetype of the classic explorer - open to all new experiences, comfortable in a tent under the stars or a five-star hotel, the consummate hostess and sensual concierge.

I don't meet every gentleman that reaches out to me, but I do invite you to email me to learn more about who I am and why I love what I do. Allow me to create a private haven for us, a little sensual haven of softness and skin, lit by candlelight. We'll let our senses help us find our way... Until then,

Bettie

For many people one of life's trials and tribulations is work. For many professional people there is travel. Travel is not always good fun. You often must be up early to catch a plane. You stand around waiting in queues and are then herded on to the plane like cattle. At the other end you must figure out the mysteries of travelling on unfamiliar public transport. You end up working and then getting back to your hotel for a meal, some boring TV and to sleep. Not very helpful to your mental health. This is where Amsterdam Escorts come in to their own. Well yes only if you have travelled to Amsterdam. These divas of the night provide you with a welcome break from work and being on your own. They are someone to talk to, someone to go out with for a meal, or you could eat together in the hotel room. They provide company, conversation and some good sex. Fans to flock to Amsterdam's red-light district for sex and drug-fuelled madness
2021-06-13 elornd

The Amsterdam Arena will host four fixtures at Euro 2020 - and the influx of supporters could herald a significant boom for the city's sex workers and coffee shop owners

But over the last six months, the city's famous brothels have fallen silent with Covid-19 restrictions forcing them to close.

"I'm extremely happy that we are back open again after such a long time without having work," a sex worker who identified herself as Kelly told the India Times.

Amsterdam officials to vote on plans for erotic centre away from the city
2021-02-01 elornd

Amsterdam officials are set to vote on whether to radically change its historic centre to relocate the famed red light district and attract 'better quality' tourists.

Prior to the Covid-19 pandemic, the city attracted 20 million tourists per year and was known for its thriving nightlife and cannabis-selling cafes and bars.

Cannabis has been readily available in coffee shops in Singel, Amsterdam, where the red-light district is located and prostitution is also allowed, but Mayor Femke Halsema is seeking political support to stop foreigners visiting to get high

Under the new plan she has put forward, Halsema is hoping to turn the focus

Sex workers submit hygiene protocol to start working again
2020-06-12 elornd

A group of organizations representing sex workers submitted a hygiene protocol with which they believe they can limit the spread of the coronavirus enough that sex workers can start working again. Measures include things like changing the bed linen after every customer, and sex workers only working one-on-one or with a couple that shares a household, ANP reports.

SekswerkExpertise, a platform that stands for improving the position of sex workers, based the protocol largely on existing protocols for other contact professions that were allowed to start up again a month ago, like hairdressers and beauticians. As the coronavirus measures currently stand, sex work will be banned until September. But with this protocol, the sector hopes to be able to start up again on Monday.
